Gov. Robert E. Smylie's long-awaited announcement of his political plans in this election year revealed once again the governor's ability to face issues and facts. He declared his intent to campaign on two issues, his length of service and his support of the sales tax. The governor once declared, "Above all, I'm a realist," and his announcement serves to emphasize it all over again. Some weeks ago, the governor acknowledged that his length-of-service in public office, almost 20 years now, would be his biggest handicap. Some of his opponents have seized on the obvious to campaign on the slogan, "Idaho needs a change."

Poage.

JUMPS THE GUIDELINE — In the other display of political poltroonery, the House rejected by a 244-127 vote a new Republican formula to cut domestic spending across the board by 5 per cent. And although the issue had been advertised as a party-line affair, the Republican leadership lost 14 votes on its attempt to trim the Treasury and Post Office Departments' $7.2 billion budget, and six on the motion to trim the Interior Department's $1.2 billion to trim t have seized on the obvious to campaign on the slogan, "Idaho needs a change." on the slogan, "Idaho needs a change." Hopefully, Idaho voters will examine carefully the credentials of any candidate who would succeed Gov. Smylie on that slogan.

The governor also is being realistic in campaigning on the sales tax issue. At least one candidate has declared the sales tax isn't an issue in the gubernatorial election. He's right, of course, but no one election. He's right, of course, but no one is going to convince voters of that fact. The sales tax issue is hopelessly entangled with nearly every facet of the 1966 election. 1966 election.

With voters expressing their opinions in the sales tax referendum, whatever happens there is beyond the influence of the governor. If voters approve the sales tax, it will be a knock to the sales tax, it will be a knock to the sales tax, it will be a knock to the governor. In the event of approval, the state's finances will run along pretty which is one of the facts irking the happens and by the time she answers, I have completely forgotten the number I dialed.

Corporations Will Curtail New Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources said Thursday night that about 45 of the nation's biggest corporations have assured President Johnson they will cooperate in curtailing plant and equipment spending in response to his plea to members of the Business Council.

Officials said Johnson was "delighted at the response" given in thank-you letters from mearly half of the more than 100 industrialists and financiers who attended the White House dinner on March 30. -

Although there is no way of measuring the probable effect of the industrywide review of capital investment plans which the President seems to have set in motion, it appears certain that the response has dimin-ished the likelihood that Johnson will propose a general tax increase as an anti-inflationary measure.

And it is obvious that the administration hopes there will be some reduction in the record $60-billion total of planned capital outlays this year, although perhaps not as much as the 10 per cent trimming which administration officials have suggested would be desirable.

The largest cut in any individ ual corporation's spending plans revealed in the letters to John-son was $200 million. Officials said this came from a "major communications company."

The business executives who wrote to Johnson were not identified, except in a few cases where their companies have publicly announced cutbacks.

Why did Colonel Taylor make his Bourbon in a castle?

In 1887, Col. Edmund H. Taylor, Jr., set out to find a special kind of water to make Bourbon with: limestone spring water.

This water has an incredibly tantalizing flavor that it acquires naturally by bubbling up through the limestone ground-rock.

He found a springnear Frankfort, Kentucky. The water here ran · forth so pure, so plentiful that he knew he would.

never want to make Bours bon anywhere else.

So, next to his spring, he built his distillery. And since he was there to stay, he built it to last. Built it in the form of a castle made of the same limestone that was to give his' water its intriguing flavor. Does the Colonel's castle make a better

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED WANT AD

1-IT'S ALWAYS REST to start your advertisement with the name of the article or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale start your advertisement with the location.

2-BE CLEAR. Randers respond more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the very

8- MAKE IT EASY for the readerprospect to beach you. Always insert your telephone number or your name and address. If you do not have regular hours, give a preferred time to have prospects contact you.

4—THE GREATESY READER AT-TENTION can be secured for your advertisement by using con-secutive insertions. Play asfe-a seven-day order is best and costs less! There are also very special mouthly rates for those who are desirous of keeping their name and offering before the public every day. You can stop your ad in the event of results, and then you pay only for the days it is published.

8-PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask your-acif what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good Classified Ad.

8—CLASSIFIED readers are already interested in buying your used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are already in the market to buy. So give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.

T-WANT ADS THAT FAIL to bring satisfaction do so, not through any lack of readership, but because they are often carelessly worded and do not contain enough information to County conservation practices have been approved for use in Idaho for the 1966 agricultural conservation program.

They are control or eradica-They are control or eradica-tion of perennial noxious weeds necessary for the successful es-tablishment of a cover of peren-nial or biennial legumes and/ or perennial grasses, or a bet-ter crop rotation, according to J. Osmer Lowe, Twin Falls County office manager for ASCS.

These practices are applicable in Blaine, Camas, Cassia, Elmore, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties.

Federal cost-sharing may be allowed for the control or eradication of seriously infested plots of Canada thistle, morning-glory, tansy, Russian knapweed, leafy spurge, white top, perennial sowthistle, perennial ground cherry, blue - flowering lettuce and quackgrass.

Other noxious weeds covered under federal cost-sharing are wild snapdragon, water hemlock, wyethia, poverty weed, goatweed, crow's foot; dalmation toadflax, chicory, ox-eye daisy and skeleton weed, where necessary for the successful es-daisy and skeleton weed, where necessary for the successful establishment or maintenance of a stand of blennial or perennial legumes and perennial grasses, or mixtures of these in areas that should be established in a better consequing ero role. in a better conserving crop rota-tion and/or to prevent infesta-tion or reinfestation of other year, declares Wilmer G. Priest, extension agricultural agent for Jerome County.

In addition to the perennial weeds listed above, this practice weeds listed above, this practice can be used for the control or eradication of the biennial weeds on land in permanent vegetative cover such as hound's tongue, spotted knap-weed and diffused knapweed.

Only 27 per cent of the potato acreage surveyed in a special study in Eastern Idaho in 1963 had a stand of 90 per cent or better. Income loss resulting from poor stands will vary from year to year year to year.

A rough rule of thumb to fol-low is that each one per cent reduction in stand gives a two sack reduction in yield. The best yields at the Aberdeen Experiment Station in both total yield and yield of U.S. No. 1 russet potatoes were obtained where there were 130 to 140 hills per 100 feet of row with an average of three to four stems per hill This gives a stem count of 450 to 475 per 100 feet of row.

The period of seedbed preparation and planting has the greatest effect upon the potato stands. Seedbeds should be loose and friable to a depth of at least 10 inches, he notes.

Fieldwork in Earlier Areas Speeding up BOISE-Fieldwork progressed

slowly in the earlier areas during the first part of March but gained momentum at the end of the month reports the USDA crop reporting service for Idaho

Most higher elevation areas remained too wet for much field activity. Seeding of small grains made good progress but lower elevation soils were too dry for best germination. March precipitation was below normal in all areas except north Idaho and high winds dried soil faster than usual.

Winter grains, where visible continue to be in good condition Soil moisture supplies remain Soil moisture supplies remain adequate for current needs in most higher dryland areas but with below normal precipitation in March, supplies are rapidly being depleted. Lambing operations are about complete in all areas while calving progress is to the halfway point.

A winter wheat crop of 31,413,000 bushels is in prospect for exceeded only by last year's record high 32,718,000 bushels.

Favorable growth was noted in says Hugh C. McKay, agronomist and superintendent of the Tetonia branch agricultural experiment station. As a result, the milling industry is buying less Idaho wheat and more must e sold as feed grain.

The protein problem is caused to low nitrogen levels in the soil, McKay says. And the answer is to use nitrogen fertilizer swer is to use nitrogen fertilizer or a green manure crop.

About 40 pounds of actual nittogen per acre applied this spring will boost protein content of the wheat to premium price levels. And it will increase yields as well. McKay adds.

Nitrogon at 40 pounds per acre increased winter wheat yield an average 7.1 bushels per acre and boosted protein from 9.3 to 11 per cent in eight years of trials on the Rexburg bench. In the last three seasons at the last Tetonia, average protein content of the region's recommended wheat varieties ranged from 11.7 to 14.0 per cent in plots fertilized with 40 pounds of actual nitrogen.

Report Given On Farmer Employment

BOISE-Employment on Idaho farms was estimated at 43, 000 persons during the week of March, 20-26, according to the USDA crop reporting service for Idaho.

This was 4,000 more workers or 10 per cent above the last week of February but four per-cent below March, 1965. Family workers (including farm opera-tors). estimated at 37,000 was 4,-000 workers above February but 5,000 below the 1960-64 average. Hired workers totaled about 6,000—1,000 below last year and 3,000 below average.

The index of composite wage rates for Idaho on April 1 was 701 per cent of the 1910-14 aver-age. This compares with 671 a year ago and is the highest on record dating back to 1923. The average wage per month, with house, was $292 compared with $289 for April, 1965.

The average rate per month, with board and room, was $229 compared with $222 a year ago. average rate per day, with-poard or room, was $12.30 compared with $11.40 last year. The rate per hour without board the $1.32 for April, 1965.

GOOD EXAMPLE of clean borrow pit, which holds down spread of weeds on local farm, is noted in this picture taken south of Twin Falls. The cleanup was the result of cooperation between the highway district and the farmer. Weeds which could not be removed were burned with flame-throwing rig. (Times-News photo)

Plans—are—complete—for the seventh University of Idaho conservation camp to be held at Camp—Alpine,—says—Olan—Genn, Genn reminded that the camp will be held June 6-11, and applications for boys attending will be taken at his office until the middle of May.

All boys who will have com-pleted the ninth grade and not over 19 years old are eligible, to attend.

The cost will be $25 for the camp, which includes meals, lodging, supplies and insurance, plus approximately $8 for transportation-from-Twin-Falls.

Genn reminded further that this is not a fun nor recreation camp. It is a school in the conservation of soil, water, forest, wildlife and range forage. How-ever, fun and recreation periods are provided.

The school will be taught by professional men in each field of study. The subject matter will be presented on a high school level and made challenging to each boy.

About half of the boys attend-

"A Land Bank loan on our part-time farm? Are you sure?"

"At first, I thought my husband was kidding. But it's true.

"I learned that all part-time farmers can apply for a long-term Federal, Land Bank loan through their local Association. You have to have steady off-farm Income, a home on your farm property, and some farm income.

"You can get low-cost loans for off-farm needs, too. Taxes, for example. Medical bills. Education. For lots of purposes.

"With your loan you're a part owner in the Federal Land Bank system. This gives you a voice in Association management. You share in earnings. And you deal with local people you know and respect.

"Am I ever thankful for the Land Bank. Tell your part-time farm friends. It's a loan at lowest possible cost-plus those conership benefits."
